BANGOR DAILY WHIG AND COURIER

BY WHEELER & LYNDE. MONDAY MORNING, MAY 12, 1856. VOLUME XXII.....NUMBER 268.

ELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
ompound Fluid Extract Buchu.

IS A CERTAIN, SAFE, AND EFFECTUAL REMEDY
for Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Weakness, Secret Diseases, Obstructions, Female Complaints, and all Diseases of the Sexual Organs, whether in MALE OR FEMALE,
from whatever cause they may have originated, and no Matter of How Long Standing.

This popular and specific remedy is now offered to the afflicted, and guaranteed to purge all the above complaints. It searches out the very roots of the diseases, driving out all the disordered fluids of the body, thus removing the cause and render ing a cure

Certain and Permanent

This medicine allays pain and inflammation, which other remedies invariably cause, and can be used with less trouble and expense to patients An infallible remedy has saved thousands upon thousands from the hands of

Useless Quacks,

and from premature graves. In cases of infection, the Compound Buchu is the only article worthy of the least confidence of the afflicted in per

TARE CURES

It contains no narcotic, mercury, or other injurious drug, but is purely VEGETABLE compound It is very agreeable to the taste, creates no disgust or sickness, and may be taken by persons of either sex without hindrance from business or change of diet, no plain directions for each room in the medicine Reader if you have any of the above complaints, do not neglect them,

Delays are Dangerous

and if you have been deceived by worthless nostrums, you can cure yourself, and prevent all exposure

Truth must and will prevail

Use this medicine speedily and effectually cures the most virulent form of secret diseases and eradicates every particle of infectious matter, from the system, leaving the patient a perfect picture of Health and Purity — as a medicine which must be beneficial to everybody, and is simply delicate to the confined and sickly invalid, no equal is to be found, it acting as a Cure and Preventative of any of the above complaints

HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
npound Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla,
FOR—

Purifying the Blood, removing all diseases arising from Errors of Mercury, exposure and improper modes of life, chronic constitutional diseases arising from impure states of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ulcers on the Throat and Legs Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Aches, Pimples on the Face, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin.

It is gratifying to the proprietor of these medicines to be able to state that it is now nearly three years since they were first introduced, during which time they have been extensively used in various parts of the United States, and have given entire and practitioner the highest degree of satisfaction in the various cases in which they have been employed, whether in town, country, hospital or private practice they have invariably given the most decided and unequivocal satisfaction, and produced the most salutary and beneficial effects. Numerous letters have been received from the most distinguished physicians in the country, and from the professors of several medical colleges, commending in the highest terms the value of these medicines and their superiority over all proprietary compositions for such complaints as the proprietor recommends Numerous preparations of Sarsaparilla and Buchu, and various modes of preparation have been given, all of which of course differ according to the mode of preparation each individual may have adopted.

These medicines require considerable care in preparation, and the employment of different menstruums in successive operation to take up the active matters, and in consequence are most frequently improperly made, and not unfrequently ill-prepared, if not rendered totally inert, by injudicious and unskilful management of unacquainted with pharmaceutical preparations.

It is, therefore of the highest consequence and importance to the public and to the faculty that there should be standard preparations of uniform strength and possessing the most advantageous qualities To effect this and obviate the evil alluded to, has made a number of experiments to secure the most effectual mode of extracting the virtues of the Sarsaparilla and the Buchu, and to distill the most eligible form for their exhibition. The experiments have resulted most favorably, and to much pleasure I now offer to, the public and the faculty my Compound Fluid Extracts, which contain all the virtues of the articles from which they are presented to be made from in a highly concentrated form, and are the most active preparations which can be made. Two table spoonfuls of this Extract Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon diet drink, and one bottle equals in strength one gallon of Syrup of Sarsaparilla or decoction as usually made

—PRICES—

Extract Buchu, $1 per bottle, or 6 for $5
Extract Sarsaparilla, $1 per bottle, or 6 for $5

Certificates of cures and recommendations from the most distinguished professors and physicians, will accompany each preparation. Prepared and sold by
H T HELMBOLD,
Practical and Analytical Chemist,
594 Broadway, 1 door from the Park, New York.
and 104 Chestnut-st near the Girard House, Philadelphia.

Sold by Druggists and dealers in every section of the United States and Canada.

MR SMITH'S ADVENTURE.

BY FRANCIS A. DURIVAGE.

[Concluded.]

"I screamed the cockney, whom we now call by his real name of William Smythe by because the surname run off the track—and that's the reason. You're a man Mr Ruggles—you've given your daughter to an impostor—to an hadventurer

"If you've been named Jenkins or Brown," said Ruggles reproachfully, "this wouldn't have happened

"I'm sorry to throw the blame on you," retorted Smythe "Ow can I help it? Besides, I spell it with a y and

"My daughter was a party to the plot, if there was," said Ruggles thoughtfully, "for she knew this gentleman at Bath.—Were you ever in Bath

"Never, said the cockney.

"And you never saw her

"Never

"It is very clear that at least she has married the man she loves, and very likely that the name he claimed was a real one. There's a mystery to this affair which I hope to see to the bottom. You can assist, perhaps Will you stay and dine with us

"No, sir—I won't rest another minit under that roof But you shall hear from me again, sir—Hunt & Chaffer, Lincoln's Inn.—I'll have you there's such a thing as a law in England

And the cockney banged away to take the railroad train for London.

This scene threw Mr. Ruggles into a fit of apprehension and perplexity. His daughter had married the wrong man. Yet she loved him—he was gentlemanly and well bred, and as far as person was concerned, a much better mate for beauty than the vulgar Smythe He trembled to inform his wife of the mystery

While thus harrassed, his servant handed him a card, on which he read, "William Smith"

Another Smith! the world is peopled with Smiths Bring me no more Smiths."

The gentleman is waiting in his chaise at the door, sir—says he's lame and can't get out and will you please have the goodness to go to him

Mr Ruggles went into the avenue, and found a portly gentleman with his legs wrapped in voluminous folds of flannel, seated in a gay chaise. He bowed low

"Mr Ruggles," said he, "we have never met though I have been in the neighborhood for a week, having purchased Hawthorn Hall—a property with which you are well acquainted

Mr Ruggles bowed.

"I hope to be better known to you, sir, for many reasons—and the most important is that a nephew of mine, who I am determined to adopt and make my heir (I expect him to arrive from London—a very fine young fellow, I am told) deeply in love with your daughter at Bath, and behaved very honorably, I understand, for having no fortune, he did not venture to propose, but has been trying to conceal his passion."

"It is in a fair way to cure himself," said Mr. Ruggles, smiling, "for he married her this morning"

"Married her?" cried the old gentleman; "how dared the rascal?"

"Don't judge him too harshly, said Ruggles "It is evident that there have been mistakes on both sides, owing to an identity of names and I have no doubt the whole affair is susceptible of explanation. I have not the least doubt that in marrying my daughter strange as it may appear, your nephew thought he was obeying the orders of his uncle. I like the young man's appearance much better, indeed, than that of my intended son in-law—Smythe with a y and who has since turned up. At any rate, if the young people are happy, I don't see why we should mar their felicity, or even let them know there was any mistake about it I know how to satisfy Mr Smythe, senior—the uncle —for there are four Smiths, two nephews and two uncles, involved in this affair—and my word for it, all will turn out well"

"I hope so," said Mr. Smith as he drove away with a promise to call again.

Mr. Smythe with nay and amen was finally pacified—the money the other Smith appropriated was made good—and when the bridegroom and bride returned, they were received with open arms at Hawthorn Hall, nor did either of the old people ever let them know that their felicity was the result of a mistake.

A MAN VOLUNTARILY IN BED FOR FORTY NINE YEARS.—The London Illustrated News has the following tough story

On Friday the 7th inst., were consigned to their final resting place, in the church yard of Keighley, Yorkshire, the mortal remains of one of the most eccentric individuals that ever lived, in fact a parallel seems scarcely possible, of a man voluntarily going to bed in good health, and remaining there for a period of forty nine years' He went by the cognomen of "Old Threelape" in the neighborhood, but his real name was William Sharp. He lived in an isolated hovel called "Worlds," (probably an abbreviation of "World's End") not far from Braithwaite, in the parish of Keighley. He was the son of a small farmer, born A. D 1777, and from an early age showed little predisposition to steady work When thirty years of age he took to his bed and the room, which he never left till carried thence on the day of his funeral. The cause of this extraordinary conduct is believed to have been matrimonial disappointment, his wedding day was fixed, and accompanied by a friend he wended his way down to the parish church, and there patiently awaited the arrival of his bride-elect, but she never came, her father having privately and steadily refused his consent. Henceforth the young man consigned himself to a small room, nine feet square, with the determination of spending the remainder of his existence between the blankets—which resolution he kept most unflinchingly At the time of Sharp's death, the window of his room had never been opened for 38 years! In this dreary abode did this strange being immure himself, He constantly refused to speak to any one, and, if spoken to never answered, even those who were his constant attendant His father by his will made provision for the temporal wants of the eccentric son, and so secured him a constant attendant. During the whole period of this self-imposed confinement he never had any serious illness, the only case of indisposition those about him can remember being a slight loss of appetite for two or three days, caused apparently by indigestion, and this notwithstanding he ate on the average as much as any farm laborer. Though arrived at the age of seventy-nine years, his flesh was firm, fair, and unwrinkled, save with fat, and his weight was estimated at about 240 pounds The curious used to come from far and wide to see him, but when a stranger was ushered into his den he immediately burried his head beneath the bed clothes. About a week before his death his appetite began to fail, and his limbs became partially benumbed, so that he could not take his food in his accustomed manner From this attack he seemed to rally, and not until the evening before his death were any apprehensions entertained that the attack would prove ultimately fatal However during the night of Sunday, the 2nd inst., he became rapidly worse, and died at four the following morning.

THE BABY'S DEAD There is a world of feeling in the following little occurrence, which we clip from a contemporary.

On last Monday we were riding a short distance from the city, when we met a little girl, who appeared in great haste, and whose eyes looked as if she had been weeping. She looked as if she wanted to speak, and on our stopping, she came close up to the carriage, nothing as if her little heart was broken, while the tear-drops were standing in her eyes, and said, "The baby a dead" We were an entire stranger to her, but she knew of but one baby in the world, and that baby to whom she was no doubt tenderly attached, was dead. The three short words were a full text for reflection, the balance of the ride We might write volumes on them, but we will merely request our readers what the little girl said to us, and let them reflect as we did on the thoughts of "the baby's dead"

Cheap & Convenient Building.

Door, Sash and Blind Factory.

A. DUNBAR

HAS been very successful in completing several contracts for Door Frames, Doors, Window Frames and Sashes, and Blinds, for good dwelling-houses and other buildings to be erected in this city, the coming season He has excellent workmen in his employ, and has superior stock, so that he is able to supply to those about to build the best articles of Door Frames, Window Frames, Sashes, and Blinds, made to any dimensions and of superior quality, either for a whole building or for a less quantity The trouble and expense of building is very much lessened by having these articles made separately, so that the carpenters have only to put them in their place in the structure

This business has now become so well systematized that only a small margin is left in knowing beforehand the cost of a dwelling-house, while the work is of a uniform excellent quality

Any one interested can examine specimens of the work at the factory, near the Horse Place, or at the store of M S Jackson on Exchange st, and at either place any article may be obtained in large quantities ordered.

Mr. Dunbar is also prepared to furnish Window Blinds ready painted, and will hang them at the shortest notice

By long experience, and by determined perseverance, the subscriber is now enabled to suit his customers, both in quality and price, and so well organized is the business that no man should now think of building in the old and slow and lingering methods.

BALTIMORE, Jan 8, 1856

Messrs E & J Marshall—Gentlemen At the request of our Agent in Baltimore, in regard to our opinion and experience of your copper coated spikes, we believe them to be superior to any and better calculated for ships, inasmuch as you have the strength of iron with the preservative qualities of copper

We have used some of your Spikes in old vessels as a substitute for copper, and have had occasion to draw them out a year afterwards, and found them coating as firm as when they were driven, and with no appearance of oxidation

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) JOHN D FARDY & BRO

Sewing Machines.

To Clothiers, Tailors, &c.

NOW IS THE TIME, during the dull season, and before the hurry of business, to introduce the Sewing Machines An investment of $125 in a Sewing Machine will procure more clear profit than a much larger sum invested in any other way Having settled all suits against our Machines, there is not a shadow of claim against them. The Excelsior and Dorcas machines, both infringing our patent, we have prosecuted in the United States Court, having jury trials in separate Courts, and we have come out triumphantly Next the Wheeler & Wilson and the Grover & Baker, are expected to come off this month We therefore caution the public not to purchase or use any of the infringing Machines if they desire to escape litigation, for we shall claim our rights

The Journal evades the charge that it has labored with and for "the Pierce and Douglas Nebraska democrats," by saying that there is scarcely a corporal's guard of Pierce men in this State, and that there is no Douglas party at all? Now when we speak of the "Pierce and Douglas Nebraska democracy," we mean the men who sustain the Nebraska measures and principles of Pierce and Douglas,—and the sham democracy of the State now stand on that platform—and the Journal knows it. But how does the Journal's special averment, even, agree with facts? Are there no Pierce men amongst the democrats? How happens it that a clear majority of the delegation from this State to the Cincinnati Convention are in favor of Pierce's re-nomination—as stated by the Belfast Free Press? It takes something more than a corporal's guard to bring about the state of things. As to the Douglas men, we shall see whether there are none in Maine, if Douglas is nominated. About Buchanan, the Journal has said nothing. Will the editor say he could never be brought to support him?

Our neighbor takes occasion to reiterate his professions of anti Nebraska principles, even while declaring his continued love for and alliance with "that great and magnanimous party" (meaning the Nebraska democratic party) with which it labored last year—all upon the pretence of "State issues"—Dow, Peck and Weaver again.

Now there is one test which will try the sincerity of the Journal's anti-Nebraska principles, and of its professed anxiety for freedom in Kansas. Will the editor declare point blanc, that he will oppose the admission of any slave State from the Territory of Kansas or Nebraska, or from the other free territories of the United States? And will he pledge himself to support no man for Congress or for the Legislature which is to elect a U. S. Senator, unless he will declare himself thus practically opposed to slavery in the Territories? Does the Journal subscribe to the right and duty of Congress to prohibit slavery in the Territories?

Again,—does the Journal accept or reject the platform of the "National" Whigs of Kentucky, upon the slavery question? We have asked its position upon that point more than once—but thus far without any response.

KANSAS Letters from Lawrence of April 30th state that Jones was recovering. Another report says he is dead, but it comes from a Missouri paper, and is probably untrue.—The prisoners who were arrested by the troops were taken to Lecompton, and, without a preliminary examination, of any kind, were held to bail in $500 each. The bulk of the troops had returned to the fort, but a detachment is stationed about four miles from Lawrence.—This detachment appeared at Lawrence on the 29th, for the purpose of arresting Mr Deitzler, Gov. Robinson's private Secretary, but he was not at home. The letter also says that the Kickapoo Rangers, 360 in number, were encamped four miles from Lawrence, but no attack is expected, although they say "they came to avenge the murder of Jones, and to assist the United States troops."

The Citizens' Committee appointed to investigate the shooting affair, were busily engaged in the work. Late letters from the Territory express the opinion that Jones was shot by a personal enemy, who had dogged his steps for some time.

THE LAWTON BLACKBERRY. We call attention to the advertisements of Mr. Albert Noyes, who offers for sale a large variety of trees, shrubs and flowers from his extensive nursery on the Levant road. He has now a supply of the famous "Lawton Blackberry," and it is just the time for transplanting them to the garden.

NEW TONNAGE IN THE BELFAST DISTRICT.—In 1855, there were 5 ships, 2 barks, and 6 brigs built at Belfast, of an aggregate tonnage of 7,013, at Searsport, 2 ships, 7 barks, 5 brigs—tonnage 6,464, at Camden and Lincolnville, 3 barks, 5 brigs and 3 schooners—tonnage 3,121. Total new tonnage in the district, 16,599.

(Foreign Correspondence of the Whig and Courier.)

Lubeck to the Baltic.

(CONCLUDED.)

The doors to the "Dance of Death" were now open, and we went in. I must say, decidedly, that the whole special merit of this famous piece lies entirely in the conception of the idea. The picture is the exact measure of the pen—meter of the room. It commences immediately on the left of the door as you enter, and ends on the right, after having traversed the four sides, and turned three right angles, and one recess, so that it is only a panoramic view. Everybody's figure is Death, and in carrying out this idea, the painter has certainly shown a commendable perseverance. As the name of the picture indicates, it is a dance, throughout. The grim skeleton dances with individual representatives from all grades of life. The Pope, the Emperor, the Empress, the King, the Queen, the Duke, the Duchess, the Prince, and on through the whole circle, are each taking their round. The closing of the scene represents Death taking the infant from the cradle. So far as the style of painting is concerned, there is nothing which might not have been performed by an ordinary artist. Two things, the idea, and the patience in its development, call for wonderment. After giving to these their full due of merit, and presupposing them, you have nothing more remaining in the piece to distinguish Overbeck among painters, and to praise him beyond these is to praise a man for setting an egg on end after Columbus has shown him how. In a word, the conception is everything, the artistic superiority is nothing, and the praise due to Overbeck is therefore due to him as a "genius" and not as a painter.

Of other paintings there is no lack. Many are portraits, but the majority illustrative of Bible history and times. One, of the resurrection, has considerable celebrity. There is, however, one other, which the uninitiated stranger is apt to remember. The scene is that of the crucifixion after the death of Christ, and the especial subject is the death of the two thieves, and their future destiny. The instant chosen by the artist is just as the countenances, still expressive, are settling from the agonies of death, and the souls go forth to their eternal abodes. These latter are represented as two new born infants, just leaving their former abodes. The one is born happily toward heaven by an angel of light, the other, in an anguish of terror is being hurried, by a winged fiend, into horrible darkness.

But I must pass hastily to and over other things. We went to visit the Lubeck city Library, containing some fifty thousand volumes, with some interesting old manuscripts. We found that it had been closed, and was, agreeably to usage, to remain for the succeeding fourteen days, till the holidays should be fully accomplished. Prof. Deecke, however, the Librarian, kindly made an appointment to show us through it on the following day. I have little room to mention what we then saw. A thing that might interest every one, is a bible of Luther's, with Latin marginal notes in his own hand writing, together with a letter written and signed by himself. The antiquarian will find quite a number of Latin middle age manuscripts. I saw one hexameter epic, nearly as large as the Enead, composed by a monk, and so neatly written as almost to defy the competition of print. A copy of the first book printed at once convinces the admiring beholder that there has been quite an improvement in the art since that time. The Historian may read from the old Scandinavian records, also written in Latin, how the Northmen, centuries before the birth of Columbus, went down the coast of a wondrous land, which, he feels convinced, was no other than America. He may also study over the exhumed relics of the early times, of which there is here a considerable collection. It will be not a little interesting to observe old battle-axes, and spear-heads and arrow-heads, of stone, exactly like those once used by the American Indians. Here were also old coats of armor, the which may have been a great protection, but which, if put on a man of our time, would prevent all possibility of either fighting or running away. An Egyptian mummy, too, was lying here, in its sleep of thirty centuries. Several teeth were still remaining, with a perfect pearly enamel.—Some letters written by Gustavus Vasa, of Sweden, as also a portion of his clothing, form a part of the collection. The library room was bitterly cold, and for the sake of the obliging and attentive Librarian, to say nothing of ourselves, we passed rapidly around.

The Dome Church, though not so old as the Marien, is regarded as one of the most splendid in Northern Germany, yet one may not describe it, here at length. It is of special interest from containing the tombs of the early Lubeck Bishops. As you pass the rounds of the interior, you look through the open-work doors into the little tomb-chapels, and see the marble sarcophagi of the great departed, surmounted by busts or surrounded by groups of statuary. The sounding pavements, too, which echo under our feet, and from which the tread of many generations has nearly obliterated the epitaphs of their fathers, all tell you that you are in the haunts of the "dead past," and, after the mysterious awe of the scene has passed away, you sigh to go forth again into the active life of the "living present."

On Sabbath morning we attended church in the old Marien, and I never suffered so much from cold in a church before, and I hope never to again. We took our seat near the curiously carved seat designed for the Senate, but at this time perfectly empty, and I imagine quite generally so. It was the Sabbath before Christmas and the church was hung with old flags, dear, I dare say, and "sacred to history," as people say, but I could not see that they were especially promotive of spirituality. Just above my head was one little standard, trampled and torn, but still bearing its patriotic inscription, "DEUTSCHLAND OBER ALLES" (Germany or Death). A little shivering company was huddled around the pulpit, and the voice of the preacher lost among the high arches, sounded veritably like a voice from the tombs. As for me, ——— indeed, I think New England churches are more comfortable. We spent the afternoon studying the Epistle of Paul to the Romans.

On Monday morning we visited the "carousity carved room," once belonging to a private citizen, and wrought at his expense, but now belonging to the Chamber of Commerce. We also climbed the high tower of the church, if perchance we might see the blue waters of the Baltic, but the air was thick, and we could only see the city, three hundred and fifty feet below us, and enjoy a bird's-eye view of every street and lane and yard. We could see, too, the mound, just out of the Northern gate, formed of earth brought from the Holy Land, in the time of the Crusades. As we went down I persuaded the sexton to let me plunder a bit from the old carved work, stored in the tower, on the solemn condition that I should never speak of it which of course doesn't include writing. At noon we were seated on the cars for Hamburg, and left the city in a shower of rain.—We were honored with the society of his "serene highness," the Crown Prince of Sweden, whose august presence we managed to survive. He was attempting to travel "incog" accompanied by a tall old Swede. This was probably for two reasons,—one, that he never finds it pleasant to be known in Lubeck, and the other, that he was curious to hear what people might say of the alliance of Sweden with the powers at war.

We came into Hamburg just at dusk. With our skates on our shoulders we think to ask for passes, and while others were being stopped, we passed quietly through to our lodgings.

New Publications.

THE YOUTH OF THE OLD DOMINION, By Samuel Hopkins. Boston. John P. Jewett. 1856.

This is one of the really good books of the day, but we can hardly tell whether to call it an historical romance, or a romantic history.—It partakes largely of the character of both romance and history—although the latter predominates, and can easily be distinguished from the former. The author says, indeed, that while he has admitted "something of fancy," to do away with the weariness of dry historical details, all idea of "fiction" in the ordinary sense is expressly disclaimed.

We have read the book with much pleasure. It is an exceedingly interesting account of the struggles and fortunes of the early settlers of Virginia, from the landing at Jamestown in 1607 to the death of the tyrannical Governor Berkely in 1677. It embraces many thrilling narratives of savage cruelty on the part of the natives, of improvidence, recklessness, suffering, starvation and death among the settlers,—and instances of high and heroic self devotion and commanding and successful ability in a few noble spirits, like Capt John Smith, in the early years of the settlements, and Nathaniel Bacon in later times, who alone saved the colony from utter destruction.

The first part of the work is occupied with Smith's astonishing history—commencing with him at 22 years of age, when, being an Englishman by birth, he had taken service against the Moslems and was made prisoner by the Turks in the Valley of Verosthorne, in 1602, where he had fought like a young lion under the banner of the German Emperor Rodolph II—forty thousand Turks having intercepted eleven thousand Christians, and destroyed ten thousand of them, at the cost of twenty thousand of their own number. He was carried to Constantinople, and sold as a slave. Our author then gives us a lively sketch of the way in which Smith's manly attractions and martial renown captivated the heart of his Turkish mistress, a young and susceptible maiden with the barbarous name of Charatza Tragabigzanda.

Smith was too honorable to take advantage of his position, and the maiden too prudent to retain so dangerous a slave. She manifested her love, however, by sending him off secretly to her brother, the Bashaw of Nalbritz on the Sea of Azoff, with a request that he would help Smith to regain his freedom. The Bashaw however, turned out to be a very different sort of personage from his lovely but too susceptible sister. He was, in fact, a regular Turk. The simple Charatza having unfortunately owned her love for Smith, in the letter of introduction which she gave him, the fierce Bashaw, (of how many tails the history does not inform us) takes Smith a presumption in high dudgeon, and instead of freeing him gives him a taste of the dark side (we didn't say "South side") of slavery. Chains, blows, stripes, labor, starvation, and personal indignity from his master were his portion—until he one day caught the vindictive Bashaw alone, at a distant threshing floor, re assumed his manhood and his valor, and slew him where he stood. He then took the Bashaw's clothes and his horse, and after many and narrow escapes and terrible sufferings, succeeded in getting across the border into Russia, and thence rejoined his fellow-soldiers in Germany.

Smith's life mission, however, was in the new world—and to his heroic deeds, his noble valor and fortitude, his far-seeing prudence and discretion, and his high and magnanimous self devotion on these shores, the youthful colony in Virginia was indebted for its first establishment and its salvation through the early years of its existence. For this mission, Providence preserved him through unheard-of perils and dangers, both from the cunning and cruelty of the savages, and the ingratitude, jealousy, and reckless machinations of many of the settlers themselves. His capture by the Indians, and salvation from death by the beautiful and tender hearted Indian princess Pocahontas, are known to every reader of American history.—Our author has depicted these adventures in his happiest style, as well as the escape of Smith, his after life and death—the marriage, meanwhile, of Pocahontas to the Englishman Rolfe, (from which marriage the famous John Randolph of Roanoke was a descendant)—the visit of Pocahontas to England with her husband, and her early and lamented death there. The balance of the book embraces the annals of Young Virginia, through several Indian wars, with the episode of the personal history of Nathaniel and Marion Bacon, the second saviours of the colony.

We may give some extracts from this work hereafter.

The book is for sale by Durrs.

Joseph Francis, one of the Cattown Indians, has recently been in the House of Correction, and is now in the Jail at Portland, for drunkenness.

THE EFFECTS OF THE EUROPEAN PEACE UPON THE BUSINESS OF THIS COUNTRY. The Philadelphia Ledger in an article upon the business prospects of the country, says.

Now that peace has returned, it may be well to inquire what changes it in turn will produce. There is no doubt it will at once cause a vast expansion of European commerce sufficient to supply our ships, which now everywhere have the preference. Large investments will be made in all the securities of this country, because the capital will not now be wanted in the destructive pursuit of war. As a permanent thing, be it observed, we must be far more interested in the peace and prosperity of any other nation with whom we have commerce, than in their injury, on the same principle that every one in negotiating, likes to bet with wealthy, responsible and successful traders. It may be set down as a good general rule that the more prosperous any nation is with whom we have commercial dealings, the better for us. The wealth of England is a great cause of our prosperity, and must eventually bring a thousand fold more wealth into this country in a sufficient length of time than could arise to us from any depression of circumstances she could undergo. But war is the greatest of all destroyers of a nation's prosperity and commercial greatness. It is the most wholesale extirminator of wealth, as well as the most barbarous and unreasonable destroyer of life conceivable. England is poorer than she would have been had she not foolishly drifted into a war from which she has only just drifted out; the unwitting agent of the superior diplomacy of France in both cases. Now we may look for a violent expansion of the London money market, followed, of course, by a corresponding expansion here. It will be comparatively easy to borrow money for railroads. Large permanent investments will, in fact, be made in all stocks, and the capital and industry of other nations be united in our soil.

The tide of emigration will probably set in again with all its former vigor, excepting so far as the gold mines of Australia may divert it to those more lucrative regions. There will be men to spare as well as means. In the last two years, more than half a million of men have probably been destroyed, either by war, or the sickness, fatigue and distress growing out of it. This year there will be fully a million of men in Europe let loose from the various pursuits connected with the maintenance of the war, to enter on the peaceful engagements of industry. This must give us no small share of the increased emigration. Thus there seems then every reason to expect a season of greatly increased activity in every department of industry. The only danger is of all this being pushed for purposes of speculation quite beyond what truth and reason will justify. This would of course soon produce a reaction. At present everything indicates a healthy and cautious enlargement of business.

COMPLIMENTARY BENEFIT TO MR. J. P. ADDAMS. We copy the following correspondence from The Journal of Saturday.

BANGOR, May 8th, 1856.

J. P. Addams, Esq.

DEAR SIR.—Your friends, desirous of offering you some testimonial of their appreciation, not only of your qualities as a gentleman and actor, but your efforts to establish the Drama in this city upon a permanent footing, beg you will name some early day most convenient to yourself, for a complimentary benefit, upon which occasion we hope to convince you that your motto "The Drama still lives," is some thing more real than mimic life.

With respect we are yours.

DWINEL HOUSE,
BANGOR, May 9, 1856.

Your favor of yesterday, is now before me. Be assured that this kind interest in my behalf, on the part of the citizens of that city which witnessed and encouraged my early efforts in the histrionic art, and who have many times since given me substantial testimonials of their generous consideration and esteem, affects me very sensibly. If agreeable to you, I will assign Tuesday, the 13th inst., for the complimentary benefit which you so kindly tender.—With many thanks for the kind wishes you have been pleased to express towards me personally, I am

The Homicide at Washington—An Editor Horsewhipped—The new Difficulties with England.

(Correspondence of the Boston Daily Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, May 8, 1856.

The homicide at Willard's Hotel, by Mr. Herbert, has created great excitement. The evidence is conflicting, but it is understood that the Dutch Minister, who saw the entire affray, says that Mr Herbert struck the first blow, in return for an expression by the waiter which displeased him. The deceased is represented by the boarders to have been an unusually polite and inoffensive servant. At the time the shot was fired, several waiters were in collision with Mr Herbert.

Mr. Wallack, editor of the Star, was severely whipped this afternoon, in Willard's Hotel, by Major Heiss, formerly of the Union newspaper, whom he had insulted for declining to recognize him as a gentleman. Mr Wallack was armed as usual, but failed to use his weapons.

Charles Whitney of New York, has filed at the State Department the affidavit of Capt Tinklepaugh of the steamer Orizaba, setting forth the interference of Capt. Carleton, of the British frigate Eurydice, at San Juan del Norte, on his last trip. The latter gentleman forbade all passengers having tickets for Nicaragua, to leave the steamer. Evidence is also presented that the British force restrained the American passengers who came down the river, from communication with the shore at San Juan, and the British boats exercised close surveillance over all Americans while there. Secretary Dobbin says most decisively that these outrages cannot go unrebuked. The subject was before the cabinet to-day, but if there was any decision, it has not yet transpired.

It is evident that here is a new and fruitful source of misunderstanding with Great Britain.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, May 7, 1856.

The divisions in the Cabinet and the new demonstrations from conservative parties South, and from other portions, have induced President Walker's Government. To the recognition of Costa Rica will come up in the Cabinet to-morrow for reconsideration. Mr. Hunter and several other Senators have protested earnestly, without receiving any positive assurance as the final determination. Gen. Cass was strongly inclined to the filibusters last week, but is now more reconciled.

Letters received recently stating explicitly that Walker had made overtures to England for an alliance on the basis of the exclusive privilege of the Isthmus, at the time when he was in correspondence with Costa Rica.

The delegates from South Carolina to the Cincinnati Convention, though ostensibly for Pierce, are for Douglass alternatively.

TELEGRAPHIC

TO THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, May 10.

Herald—Mr. Fuller, of Pennsylvania, defined his position upon the past and present on the slavery question, avowing broad national principles and strongly raising as forgeries certain publications attributing to him extreme Northern views. He exposed what he characterised as the marked inconsistency of Mr. Buchanan and referred to documents to show that prominent Democrats, some of them Delegates to Cincinnati were tainted with freesoilism.

Mr. Tadd explained why he ceased voting when he had made a mistake, in believing Mr.
Fuller to be a good Anti-Nebraska man as Mr.
Banks.

Mr. Jones, of Pennsylvania, gave notice of his intention to reply to the speech of Mr. Fuller.

Mr. Jones, of Tennessee, having published in pamphlet circular to his constituents certain remarks said never attributed to Mr. Fuller, and which Mr. Fuller denounced to-day as forgeries, interrogated the latter concerning the statements therein expressed. Mr. Jones did not deem himself satisfied with the response of Mr. Fuller. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, May 10.

Today is the first Saturday session since the organization of the House; the roll call showed two hundred members in attendance, but more came in afterwards, and an unsuccessful motion was made to adjourn.

The Homicide at Washington.

The master killed at Willard's Hotel by Mr.
Brent, Member of Congress, was an Irishman, apparently about bed and an inoffensive man.
Herbert's examination was commenced at the Police Office, and continued on Saturday.— Senator Weller, of California, Mr. Phillips, of Alabama, and Messrs. Bradley and Radcliffe, were counsel for Herbert. An immense crowd was in and about the Jail.

A number of servants belonging to the hotel were examined. Their evidence was to the effect that Mr. Herbert came into the dining room at 11½ o'clock, accompanied by a friend, and called for breakfast but being past the usual hour, he was informed by a waiter that he could not have a meal without an order from the office for it.

Mr. Herbert directed several of the servants, who spoke to him on the subject, to retire, calling them harsh names. The deceased made a reply, when Mr. Herbert struck him with his fist or with a napkin. The deceased then picked up a plate or tray, making movements as if to throw it, when Mr. Herbert threw a chair at him, the latter returning the assault with a fork. During the melee, Patrick, a brother of the deceased entered, having heard of the proceeding. Mr. Herbert seized him, and the two brothers closed with him. The proceeding now became extremely exciting, and chairs and crockery were broken profusely by the parties in the contest. The Austrian Minister quietly beheld what was occurring, but did not move until he went to the man whom Mr. Herbert had fired at, ascertain whether he was dead or living.
Dr. McKay testified that he saw, when he went into the dining room, six or seven persons in a scuffle, and thought it was a general fight among the servants of the hotel, but shortly he had one of the servants knock down Mr.
Gardiner with a chair, and saw three other servants striking Mr. Herbert, holding him by the arms. Witness seized hold of a chair to defend Mr. Herbert, who was sinking under the weight of the men, and Mr. Gardiner at the time was beating them promiscuously.— After Mr. Herbert fired the pistol, two other servants rushed forward and clinched him. Mr.
Smith went to the assistance of Mr. Herbert with a cane, saying—"If you don't release him I'll kill you." Mr. Herbert was considerably injured.

The Tribune correspondent states that Herbert fired a revolver several times, and wounded two other servants besides the one he killed, but this does not appear certain.

It is a cowardly thing, any how, to carry deadly weapons into a place like that where the fracas occurred.

Steamboat Explosion.

ST. JOHN, N. B., May 9.

The steamer J. D. Pierce blew up yesterday, about 30 miles above Fredericton. Four persons were instantly killed, another has since died, and several others on board were more or less injured.

The J. D. Pierce was one of the stern-wheel river boats which formerly ran on the Kennebec. She was named for Mr. Joshua D. Pierce, of Augusta. We have no other particulars of the explosion than the above despatch.

Railroad Smash-Up.

ALBANY, May 9.

The Rock Island Advertiser reports a grand smash up on the Michigan Railroad, just beyond the junction of the Muscatine Branch, about 20 miles west of Davenport. The express train to Iowa city, of Wednesday evening, had run off the track at that point, and it is said 10 or 12 persons were killed, and many others hurt. The entire train, consisting of locomotive, baggage car, and four passenger cars, is said to have run off while under full headway, causing also a great destruction of property.

FIRE IN ROBBINSTON.—The mansion house of the late Gen. John Balkam, of Robbinston, brother of J. A. Balkam, Esq., Deputy Collector of Portland, was burned on the 7th inst. It caught from a defect in the chimney, which had been burned out that afternoon. The furniture was mostly saved, and some of the doors and windows. The house was a fine old mansion, built before the revolution, and was insured for $1500. Its value was about $3000.

Sch. Norman, of Bangor from Boston for Virginia, put into New York 8th inst. to repair, having been in contact 7th inst. with an outward bound ship sailing from New York. The jibboom of the ship passed into the schooner's mainsail, destroying it and the gaff topsail, and also unstopping the mast. The captain of the ship refused to give her name.

G. N. CHAMBERLIN,

NO. 2 GOTHIC BLOCK,

UNDER THE HATCH HOUSE—BANGOR,

Would call the attention of customers to a Stock of

BONNETS, RIBBONS, AND EMBROIDERIES,

Which for Style quality and Low Prices, is not surpassed by any Stock in Bangor.

The Assortment is New and Fresh, having been received within a few days from the most desirable sources. The attention of Customers is requested to a slight enumeration of GOODS and PRICES, and ALL articles will be found at equally low charge.

Bonnets and Trimmings.

An assortment of Rich Dress BONNETS, got up and Trimmed by one of the most fashionable Houses in the country, at prices from $3 to 10,00; good styles of Plain and Fancy Straws, all trimmed from $2 to $3; Plain and Fancy Straws from 50 cents to $3,00; good assortment of Children's Bonnets at equally low prices. Rich Trimming Ribbons are sold for 25 per cent. less than the usual price; also, Wreaths, Flowers and Braids.
Bonnets Bleached and Remodeled.

EMBROIDERIES.

The stock of Embroideries is unusually large. We have an assortment of COLLARS, embracing 10 cents to $6,00; a wide margin, between which customers can scarce fail to suit their taste, and the prices shall be less than the same article can be bought for elsewhere.

MOURNING COLLARS, in Great Variety.

Some new and choice styles Cambric, Muslin, Lawn, and Crape Sleeves; French, Scotch, and Swiss Embroidered and Dimity Bands and Flouncings.

EDGINGS AND INSERTINGS.

Malta, English, and German Thread, Brussels Imitation Malta, Imitation Honiton, Smyrna, and Cotton EDGINGS and INSERTINGS.

VEILS.

French Lace Mourning, in Cypress and Crape and Spotted Veils; also, Dotted Silk Lace, all colors of Silk, Tissue, and Berage, by the yard.

WHITE GOODS.

Plain, Striped and Check Cambric; French Muslins; Nainsook Check do.; Swiss Mull and Jaconet
Cambric; Bishop's Lawn; Linen Cambric; Linen Lawn; Tarleton Muslins; White Dimetys Skirtings, &c.

Whalebone Skirts for 83 cents.

HANDKERCHIEFS.—A great assortment of Embroidered, Hemmed, Colored Bordered and Plain; Four cents will buy a Child's Handkerchief, warranted all Linen, and you can get a regular gradation from that price to $4,00. A very good Handkerchief, all Linen, is sold for 12½ cents, and will warrant an examination.

Hosiery and Gloves.

A great stock of English Cotton Hosiery, white and colored, ribbed and plain; Gloves of all kinds; Kid Gloves, from 25 to 75 cents; Silk, Lisle Thread, &c.; Mohair Mitts at low prices. Also, Sewing Silks, Threads, Needles, Pins, Knitting Cotton, Tambour Cotton, and all Imitations, which all are in want of, and which will be sold at the most reasonable rates.
No efforts will be spared to give satisfaction to customers, and all are requested to call before purchasing any of the above mentioned articles, and see if the prices will not be an inducement to receive us of a heavy Stock. The subscriber would say that he

California Steamers, Carrying the United States Mail.

5th and 20th of each Month.

Reduced Prices. 100 lbs. Baggage Free.

Through Tickets, including transit of the Isthmus, via Panama R. R.

By order of the Postmaster General, the United States Mail Steamers will hereafter be despatched from New York direct to Aspinwall, on the 5th and 20th of each month.

Passengers are landed at the Railroad Depot, Aspinwall, and conveyed across to the Pacific Steamers without any extra expense. This is the only line giving entire Through Tickets, including meals, on the Isthmus.

Transit made in four hours, entirely by daylight, thus avoiding the great exposure by night in open boats to fever and ague, and 200 miles of dangerous lake and river navigation over rocks and shoals.

Arrangements have now been completed so that the regular U. S. Pacific Mail Steamer will leave Panama for San Francisco immediately on arrival of the Atlantic Mails and passengers, thus securing passengers by the Mail Line a sure and short passage, without any detention on the Isthmus.

☞ Tickets must be signed by one of the 'Company's Agents before they will be recognized by the Agent at Panama, and Tickets thus signed can be obtained of the only authorized Agent for the Atlantic and Pacific Mail Steamship Companies, in this city.

STANLEY HOUSE

WATER STREET, AUGUSTA, ME.

G. W. RICKER, would respectfully announce to the Traveling Public that he has recently opened the Stanley House, Augusta, and furnished it throughout with NEW and ELEGANT FURNITURE, and made every arrangement necessary to constituting it as a First Class Hotel.

This is the most centrally located House in the city, being directly opposite the Depot, and in close proximity to the steamboat landing, Court House, Post Office, &c., not but a few minutes' walk from the State House.

Business men, or persons traveling for pleasure, will find that this House affords every convenience or luxury that can be desired, and the Proprietor is determined to spare no pains to make it in every respect second to none in the State.

Books for all Stages leaving town will be kept at this House.

In connection with the above are good Stables with attentive and careful Hostlers.

American and Foreign Office,
FOR Securing Patents for Inventions.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH THE U. S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby St., BOSTON.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The subscriber, (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office under the Act of 1836,) determined to present advantages in applying for patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements, whereby, on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of seventy, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal, by him, within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of invention, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and its SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries, prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of the claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

TESTIMONIALS.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office,

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

[From the present Commissioner.]

"AUGUST, 17, 1855.—During the time I have had the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATIONS

HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
Compound Fluid Extract Buchu,

IS A CERTAIN, SAFE, AND EFFECTUAL REMEDY

For Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Weakness, Secret Diseases, Obstructions, Female Complaints, and all Diseases of the Sexual Organs, whether in MALE OR FEMALE,

from whatever cause they may have originated, and

In Matter of How Long Standing.

This popular and specific remedy is now offered to the afflicted, and guaranteed to cure all the above complaints. It searches out the very roots of the diseases, driving out all the diseased fluids of the body, thus removing the cause and rendering the cure

Certain and Permanent.

This medicine allays pain and inflammation, which other remedies invariably cause, and can be taken with less trouble and expense to patients. This infallible remedy has saved thousands upon thousands from the hands of

Merciless Quacks,

if not from premature graves. In cases of infection, the Compound Buchu is the only article worthy of the least confidence of the afflicted in performing

SAFE CURES.

It contains no narcotic, mercury, or other injurious drug, but is a purely VEGETABLE COMPOSITION. It is very agreeable to the taste, creates no perceptible odor, and may be taken by persons of either sex without hindrance from business or medical advice, as plain directions for use accompany the medicine. Reader, if you have any of the above complaints, do not neglect them,

Delays are Dangerous.

With this medicine you can cure yourself, and thus prevent all exposure.

Truth must and will prevail.

This medicine speedily and effectually cures the most virulent forms of secret diseases, and eradicates every particle of infectious matter from the patient to a perfect state of Health and Purity.—And as a medicine which must benefit everybody, from the simply delicate to the confined and despairing invalid, no equal is to be found, it acting both as a Cure and Preventive of any of the above ailments.

HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
Compound Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla,
—FOR—

Purifying the Blood, removing all diseases arising from Excess of Mercury, exposure and imprudence in life, chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Scald head, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Tetter, Pimples on the Face, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin.

It is gratifying to the proprietor of these medicines to be able to state that it is now nearly three years since they were first introduced, during which time they have been extensively used in various parts of the United States, and have given to patient and practitioner the highest degree of satisfaction in the various cases in which they have been employed, whether in town, country, hospital, or private practice, they have invariably given the most decided and unequivocal satisfaction, and produced the most salutary and beneficial effects. Numerous letters have been received from the most distinguished physicians in the country, and from the professors of several medical colleges, recommending in the highest terms the value of these medicines and their superiority over all other preparations for such complaints as the proprietor recommends. Numerous preparations of Sarsaparilla and Buchu, and various modes of preparing them have been given, all of which of course will differ according to the mode of preparation which each individual may adopt.

These medicines require considerable care in the preparation, and the employment of different menstrua in successive operation to take up the extractive matters, and, in consequence, are most frequently improperly made, and not unfrequently much impaired, if not rendered totally inert by the injudicious and unskillful management of those unacquainted with pharmaceutical preparations. It is, therefore, of the highest consideration and importance to the public, and to the faculty, that there should be standard preparations of uniform strength and possessing the most advantages. To effect this, and obviate the evil alluded to, I have made a number of experiments to ascertain the most effectual mode of extracting the virtues of the Sarsaparilla and the Buchu, and to discover the most eligible form for their exhibition. The experiments have resulted most favorably, and it is with much pleasure I now offer to the public and the faculty my Compound Fluid Extracts, which contain all the virtues of the articles they are represented to be made from in a highly concentrated form, and are the most active preparations which can be made. Two table spoonfulls of the Extract Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon diet drink, and one bottle fully equals in strength one gallon of Syrup Sarsaparilla or decoction, as usually made.

—PRICES—

Fluid Extract Buchu, $1 per bottle, or 6 for $5.

" " Sarsaparilla, " "

Certificates of cures and recommendations from distinguished professors and physicians, will accompany each preparation. Prepared and sold by

H. T. HELMBOLD,
Practical and Analytical Chemist,
No. 263 Chesnut-st., near the Girard House, Philadelphia.

To be had of Druggists and dealers in every section of the United States and Canada.

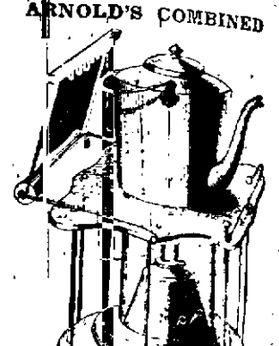
ARNOLD'S COMBINED



FOOT-STOVE, LANTERN,
....AND....
NURSE-LAMP.

ALBERT NOYES having purchased the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale, and introduction, in Penobscot county, of the above invention, is now prepared to furnish the same for public use.

As a FOOT STOVE, it is for the purpose, as it can be filled with the coldest water without injuring the fire, and is found to be an indispensable article in the sick room. As a LANTERN, it is filled with oil, lard oil, sperm oil, or fluid lamp oil, and is so constructed that the flame is protected from every current of air, and cannot be blown out. As a NURSE LAMP, it is found to answer all the purposes, and is less expensive to keep, and can be used as a night lamp with equal advantage.

In fact, the various purposes to which this new apparatus can be put, are only limited by every one's ingenuity. No further description is necessary, as no one can misunderstand its general use. To say any thing more respecting its admirable qualities, would be only to repeat information that our readers can all obtain for themselves.

A MARVELLOUS REMEDY
For a Marvellous Age!!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT!

The Grand External Remedy.

By the aid of a microscope we see millions of little openings on the surface of our skin. Through these this Ointment works its way to the seat of all diseases, Disorders of the Liver, Affections of the Heart, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Asthmas, Coughs and Colds are effectually cured. Every housewife knows that fat passes through bone or meat of any thickness. This healing Ointment performs the same through any bone or fleshy part in the human system, curing the most dangerous inward complaints that cannot be reached by other means.

Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, and Scorbutic Humors.

No remedy has ever done so much for the cure of diseases of the Skin, whatever form they may assume, as this Ointment. No case of Scald Head, Scurvy, Sore Head, Scrofula, or Erysipelas, can long withstand its influence. The Ointment has travelled over many parts of the globe, and in the principal hospitals, dispensing this God-like healing advice as to its application, and the best means of restoring countless numbers to health.

Sore Legs, Sore Breasts, Wounds and Ulcers.

Some of the most scientific surgical operations solely on the use of this Ointment, when having to cope with the worst cases of bad wounds, ulcers, glandular swellings, &c. Professor Holloway has, by command, forwarded to the Governments, despatched to the East, large shipments of this Ointment, to be used under the direction of the Medical Staff for the worst cases of wounds, ulcers, bad legs, glandular swellings, stubborn sores, contracted cords and joints, even of 20 years' standing.

Piles and Fistules.

These and other similar diseases of the body can be effectually cured if the Ointment is well rubbed in over the parts affected, and warm fomentations following the printed directions around each pot.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Piles
Burns,	Rheumatism
Chapped Hands	Salt Rheum
Chilblains	Skin Diseases
Fistulas	Sore Legs
Gout	Sore Breasts
Lumbago	Sore Heads
Mercurial Eruptions	Sore Throats
	Sores of all kind

*.*Sold at the Manufactories of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and 244 Strand, London, and by all respectable Venders of Medicines throughout the United States, and the civilized world, in Pots at 25 cents, 62½ cents, and $1 each.

☞ There is a considerable saving in taking the larger sizes.
